

The Dulaan Scarf

I've been thinking for a while now that it would be cool to create something just for the Dulann project (click the button on the sidebar for further information). Not that the patterns that are being used (and which I have used myself) aren't perfectly splendid - they are. Only that I thought it would be nice if something had its inception here, as part of a project whose sole aim is to help people stay warm.

I had only used Lionbrand's Fisherman's wool briefly once before and I'm rather surprised at how nice it is to work with - smooth, even, no knots (so far) that I didn't put there. I know it's dyeable and I fully intend to give that a try before long. It has to be the best wool value on the market. I can get this at my local A. C. Moore for about $6.00 per 8oz. skein which is roughly equivalent to $1.31/50 grams. Pretty decent price for wool!

The Dulann Scarf

Materials

Lionbrand Fisherman's Wool, 1 8 oz. skein

Size 7 (US) needles
